

JUNIOR OLYMPIC ARCHERY DEVELOPMENT

Junior Olympic Archery Development (JOAD) is a youth archery program for youngsters 18 years of age and under. JOAD is sponsored by the National Archery Association (NAA). The NAA is a non-profit educational corporation dedicated to perpetuate, foster and develop the practice of the sport of archery. It establishes shooting regulations, conducts tournaments, maintains records and provides organized archery clubs with well rounded programs.

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

Boys and girls in JOAD who shoot either Recurve or compound bows, enjoy state, regional and national championships in indoor and outdoor target archery. The Achievement levels were designed to provide a challenge to youth. Success at each level is dependent on the individual's skill and willingness to apply themselves. Each archer can advance at his or her own pace. Pins, certificates or cloth bars are awarded for achievement levels up to Bronze Olympian. JOAD members who achieve the Olympian awards receive them with special recognition from the US Archery Association.
